They will provide details and cost of semen collection on demand. Most semen collection will be performed for approximately 250.00 collection fee plus shipment and other handling expenses, but mare owner will need to contact clinic directly to organize payment and discuss mare needs.
2. Mare Owner/ Agent will complete mare history form and attach it to this contract. Information to include mare's registered name, registration number, registered owner, owner address and any leasee information or address if applicable. If live cover is desired, appropriate arrangements for agistment of mare/foal should be made directly with Leslie A. Weston. Mare/foal agistment is available in Coolamon NSW in a safe secure environment.
3. Breeder must notify the breeder's contracted vet at least 48 hours prior to needing semen. It is therefore essential that the attending vet palpates the mare and determines the approximate time of ovulation. Contracted veterinarian or owner shall notify Farm and Pet Veterinary Clinic of Ganmain NSW (02 69 27 6766) of the need for shipped semen. Handlers and veterinarians require at least 1-2 days notice before collection of semen is made, if at all possible. 4. It is agreed that The Stallion Agent and any of their associated employees are not to be held liable for delays in delivery, semen that is lost in shipment, or mishandled in any manner after it leaves collection point. This contract is not an exclusive guarantee that semen will be available on the day the Mare Owner/ Agent requests semen, but all attempts will be made to ship semen on the day requested. Mares on the premises of The Stallion Agents facility have breeding priority on breeding days.
5. The shipped semen will have attached the appropriate forms completed by the attending vet at the time of collection. The sperm count, motility and packaging process will meet or exceed industry standards.
6. If all necessary forms are not returned and completed at the prescribed times before breeding, all guarantees of this agreement shall become null and void.
7. It is understood that the burden of conception is placed almost entirely on The Mare Owner/ Agent and their veterinarian and/or technician. The mare must be bred immediately upon the receipt of semen and proper methods of handling must be used. For mares to be covered on premises, it is understood that all routine veterinary care including palpation, shots, cultures/testing, and associated breeding charges will be provided and all charges will be the responsibility of the mare owner. All mare handling will be performed in a timely manner to insure all likelihood of breeding success.

8. For re-breedings, Mare Owner/Agent will be required to pay additional charges for semen collection, preparation, shipping and container rental, as per the contracted vet's schedule. If the mare is sold, dies or changes ownership after being serviced by The Stallion, the re-breed is no longer valid.

9. This contract is valid for one live foal only. Stallion owner agrees that a live foal guarantee provides for one live nursing foal upon birth. Should this breeding result in multiple foals, whether intentional or accidental, The Mare Owner/Agent agrees to pay $1250 for each resulting foal before breeders certificates will be issued.

10. All monies owed for agistment or any professional services are to be paid in full prior to collection of the said mare after the mare has been verified to be in foal.
